Contracting & Restoration

RENU Contracting Restoration was established from a third-generation retail and commercial flooring business that was founded in 1959. RENU has transformed into a leading and innovative full service general contractor and emergency restoration firm. Their exceptional reputation has commanded a consistent delivery of quality work and superior customer service. Servicing Long Island through the Hudson Valley and restoration services across the country, RENU is expanding their disaster relief services faster than ever before. Our network of experienced contractors offer services that cover the entire scope of a project. Communication is vital in maintaining relationships and our clients are always informed of progress utilizing our in-depth management, account, and reporting systems.
